I remember the cover just not the story.

Welcome to "Todd is Hormonal, Jessica and Lila are Frenemies, Elizabeth is a Prude and Enid is Sassy" or SVH Super Edition #7, "Falling for Lucas."

So, despite all of the aforementioned in my fake title, this book is hella boring and circular. Obviously, if you read SV enough, you know that none of the main characters will die (meaning Jess, Liz, Winston, Lila, Enid, Bruce)... everyone else is fair game (Poor Regina!). So, yes, Todd is caught in an avalanche, as stated on the back. But does he die? Of course not. Surprisingly, the front cover is Liz and Todd, not Jessica and Lucas. More on that in a minute.

Todd/Liz:

So, Todd wants sex, because he is 16 and hormonal. The gang is headed to Colorado on a ski vacation, and Todd has worked out a system with Winston in which he lets Todd have the room to himself (and Liz) when he hangs the Do Not Disturb sign on the door. But first, Todd tries to put the moves on Liz on the bus. He climbs into her bunk (fancy bus!) and wraps his arms around her. When Liz wakes to find Todd next to her, she flips her shit. So she is already not too happy with him when they arrive at the lodge and he tries to use the Do Not Disturb sign trick. Once again, she gets even more ticked off and cannot believe that Todd expects to pop her chiz-erry. Geez, Liz, he's only your boyfriend of forever. It's not so much to ask. So Todd goes skiing after her to warn her of the treacherous mountain conditions and gets caught in an avalanche, natch. Lesson to all you 16 yr old horny gentlemen: don't lust after your girlfriend, or try to have sex, or you will get caught in an avalanche and (maybe) die! He gets trapped in a rescue cabin with 30-something Cassandra who - wait for it - is lusting after Todd! A SIXTEEN YEAR OLD. Yep. Colorado in SV's world is crawling with pedophiles. So she alternately massages his shoulders and tries to shove her pussy in Todd's face while he rejects her advances (crazy, because not even 24-hours-ago he was so super horny). So the book is supposed to be "suspenseful" as we await the verdict on whether Todd will be saved, but of course he is and Winston throws a welcome back party. They try to create a little more drama by letting Liz catch Todd kissing Cassandra and Todd catch Liz kissing Dirk but (for once) neither of them initiated the cheating. So they talk and all is happy again blah blah.

Jessica and Lila:

How does Jessica celebrate the death of her "forever love" Christian Gorman in the previous book? By making a bet with Lila over ski instructor Lucas to see who can kiss him first. Loser has to ski the double black diamond "Devil's Run." Except for a few winsome remarks by Lila in the first few chapters, this is the most boring part of the entire book. I don't even think this bet deserves the title (since the cover has nothing to do with Jess & Lucas anyway). It just goes back and forth between Jess & Lila constantly one-upping each other and both pretending to be awful skiers to win the love of Lucas. Spoiler: Lila Gasp wins the bet by kissing Lucas first. Jessica skis Devil's Run and fractures her ankle (bahahahahaha). But she, of course, doesn't give up, and uses being crippled to win herself a kiss with Lucas. What a player this guy is, because at the end of the book, after Jess & Lila have spectacularly humiliated themselves in front of him, they see Lucas being fed marshmallows by Enid. Bahahaha. So epic.

Enid:

Enid isn't really an insufferable whiner, like so many other SV characters, but in this book she's a little down on her luck with guys (hey, daps, girl! I can relate), so she buys a book entitled "101 Ways to be Sassy on the Slopes" in a ski shop. The best parts of Falling for Lucas entail her hilarious attempts at trying out the "Methods" listed in aforementioned book. While trying out one of these methods, she accidentally hits on Winston, who has lied and said that he's a good skier when he's actually not. Since she wants to hide her sassiness methods from her friends, and he wants to hide his rotten ski skills, they decide to help one another get better. The Enid/Winston friendship is very endearing, and so much more fun to read about than Jess/Lila/Todd/Liz.
