The Real Dopeboyz of Virginia 2 Vee Bryant

After the death of his beloved wife, Damien took off and went to Cabo, New Mexico. His heart hurts and he isn't thinking right. All he wants to do is bring her back from the dead. He blames everyone for her death including himself. He meets someone, and they get close real fast, but she isn't who he think she is. One mistake could bring down everything he worked for.

Carter is worried about his brother. He wants to take the pain away from him but how when he doesn't even talk to him anymore. He hates that he has to take the blame for something he had nothing to do with. He is now in an official relationship with Mia and they are getting along well, he likes her, and she likes him. Will it last?

Memphis and Jelena aren't together anymore, but she's not trying to let him go. He wants her to think he hates her but deep down he still and will always love her. He just didn't trust her anymore and couldn't even look at her the same way, but she loved him and wanted him back.

Damien's return back to the states and is immediately put in the middle of some mess he doesn't want or need. In this part II you will witness loyalty and dishonesty at an all-time high; people intentions aren't always true.

I don't think anyone saw this coming.

It's getting real. I don't know which way to go. Who shot Ida? Who is the FED? Enquiring minds want to know. And something about Helena just rubs me the wrong way. It has to come together in part 3.

Loved part 2

Loved part 2. Memphis, Carter, and Damien can't catch a break. I honestly didn't trust Zaria, something wasn't right with her, and its the fact that shes a FED. Now she done witnessed this murder smh. I need part 3 so I can see how this ends

Torz😝Tha📚Junky😜 says

?Zaria a ?

Damien can't catch a break. I wondering is Ida is really dead. I happy for Memphis and I like Mia character. I have this weird feeling that Winter or Gia could be potentially apart of this B.S????? And Zaria must definitely be the cop ?????.
