First, thank you for having these stories available on Wattpad for reading, I have very much enjoyed them. I love these characters (even with Emily so genuinely annoying throughout a lot of the story) and their relationships to each other. Though I'm not particularly fond of vampire stories, these are intriguing and humorous, and quite captivating - especially Inject Me Sweetly, which is my fav of the two. Also, quite ingenious to allow the reader to choose the ending (Inject Me Sweetly); both were very good. I must admit both stories are a lot of fun. Nicely done, thank you for sharing them.

*Just a heads up for future readers: story on Wattpad is unedited in some chapters.
