I read this book as part of an arc program. I really enjoyed this book from Mia. Rachel is a recent college graduate who is caring for her elderly neighbor and her little dog, while she is also writing a book about small town living. When her neighbor dies, her son Xander returns and Rachel realizes she still has a crush on him. Xander was the high school football star and now travels the world as a photographer. When he returns, he sees Rachel and is surprised she is grown into a beautiful woman and is not the little girl he remembers. When they spend time together while Rachel still cares for the dog and Xander renovates the house to get it ready to sell, they flirt and start a fling, knowing Xander is leaving the end of the summer. Rachel develops strong feelings for Xander and knows she will be hurt when he leaves. I really loved their story, it was playful and steamy. Rachel and Xander were great together. Another good one from Mia.

Short, nothing special... it was a quick read without much drama.

Smoldering desires!

Rachel, who recently completed her grad studies has been watching Xander from her bedroom window since she was 10 and he was 18 and romancing young women to his back yard and some even in his treehouse. He's been a town favorite since he played football in high school and then went on to college to become a well-renowned photographer who has spent for too many years on assignments across the world and away from his ailing mother. Next door neighbor, Rachel spent so much time with his mother and his her dog LuLu while his mother slowly slipped away and in exchange she allowed Rachel to do her writing in her second story bedroom so that she escape her parents' meddling

I voluntarily read the arc copy of this book. Yet another great book from Mia. What more can you ask for but a hot neighbour. Rachel has had a crush on Xander since she was a little girl and now he is back, she isn't a young girl anymore and he is older and better than before. She is friends with Xander's mom and when she passed she is concerned about her dog so she goes to take care of it not thinking that Xander would be there.

What will be the outcome of the story. Well buy the book and find out you won't be disappointed.

If you're looking for a short and steamy older man/younger woman romance read that is well-written with a good storyline, hot chemistry, some twists, suspense, and a HEA, then My Hot Neighbor my Mia Madison is the book for you.

I volunteered to review an advance reader copy of this book.

Very good love story

I have been a fan of Mia's for a while. I love her writing style and how you can connect to the characters. You get that warm tingling feeling from the characters and the events. This is a story I would re-read several times.

Overview. Rachel went into the neighbors house to let Lulu the dog out. The owner Mrs. Craig passed away. When Rachel turns around she sees Xander in a towel looking at her. Rachel has always thought he was cute even though he was several years older than her. Xander takes her out on a date as a thank you for taking care of the house, his mom, and the dog. But Xander is having a hard time not wanting more from her. So they start pairing up to rebuild the house as well as finish her book. But Rachel knows that he will be leaving soon for his photography job since they keep calling him and he put the house on the market. When the new owners show up, Rachel is shocked to see Xander there. Xander decided to keep the house, the dog and the neighbor girl.

Di says

After Rachel's neighbour dies, her son, Xander comes home for the funeral and stays for the summer, fixing up the place before he goes back on assignment overseas. He's a known photographer and with his expertise and Rachel wanting to write a book, they pool their talents for her book. Rachel has had a crush on the older man since she was 10 and now that she is all grown up, he notices her. As they work together to fix up the place to sell it and work on the book, their relationship grows. But Xander has to leave for work and doesn't know when he will be back...will she join him ?

A great short and steamy read with no drama, no games, no jealousies, no other women, no miscommunications, no misunderstandings which I loved. A story about two people who have lived next door to each other for many years, one finally noticing the other and ending up in a mutual mature relationship, with a surprise near the end and a HEA much deserved.

I voluntarily read an advanced copy and expressed my honest opinion

I received an ARC of this book for an honest review. Rachel has had a crush on Xander for years. Growing up next door to the local Golden boy could do that to a young girl. Xander left school and town behind. Rachel helped take care of his mom and when his mom passed Xander came home to get the house ready to sell it. She helped him and the rest is a story you just need to read for yourself.

I devour every Mia Madison story I can get my hands on. I can't put them down until I'm done and impatiently await the next one.

Gross

I liked it until the discussion about her listening to him have sex with other women when he was younger. That's awful. She acts like it's sorta funny and possibly turning her on but that's not remotely realistic. Who on earth would pursue someone they'd seen or heard them having sex with someone else. There is no place for that kind of thing in a romance. Sexual details about past partners or sex with other people, even before a relationship is established, has no business being in a romance. can't even finish the book, and that upsets me because I like this author a lot.

This was one of those books you read when you are looking for a sweet read on a hot summer day. From the very first page I was rooting for this couple. It is an older man younger woman story, but more than that is a story about two people coming together and creating a life anyone would be grateful to have.

I laughed a lot, swooned a bit, and just had an enjoyable read. The story flowed wonderfully. There was more sweetness the hot passion as this story demanded sweetness and caring. These was not one part that I did not enjoy. I have read many of this authors works and will say this ranks on the top of her list. It was just plain wonderful. I received an ARC and I am leaving an honest review.

I finished it. The ending was cute. Those were the good parts. This was short, but really awkward. The h spied on the H when she was younger (she's 8 years younger than him), in his back yard while he was in high school. She saw all his old hook ups, and would keep her window open at night to listen to him with other girls. Flash forward and whenever they get close, she compares, or just remembers all those other ladies. Reading that was weird. She was 10. And he was 18, and she was in love with him. As a 24 year old adult, whenever she gets turned on- recalling him with other girls, through the eyes of a 10 year old was (for me anyway) icky and awkward.

Karina says

What a sweet and delightful read. Rachael and Xander were a perfect fit. I loved the look back at her diary entries when she was younger and reading about the crush she had. This couple was not so different in age. It only seemed that way when she was much younger. As adults the difference in age is not that different. I liked how they started out as friends and how Xander realized early on that he was more than just attracted to her. They definitely had chemistry! They both were supportive of each other. I loved the HEA! I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of this book.

✿Penny says

Meh. One of the few good things about this story was that although she had a crush on him since she was a kid she didn't remain a virgin unconsciously waiting for the hero to show up and deflower her.

Laila Viking says

A well written short romance with nice storyline and plot. It is an older man/younger woman story. The characters are well described and develops nicely through the story. Their chemistry is amazing and hot. I like it is written in dual POV, which gives the reader both the thoughts and feelings of the main characters. The twists makes you just want to read more.

A very quick and easy read. It is sweet and surprised me in the most positive way. It is not all about steamy hot scenes. It is about finding the one you have been looking for. The one that makes your life whole and then settle down and enjoy it all. This story has a lot in it in spite of that it is a short read. It made me laugh and cheer for the couple. The chemistry is remarkable and the words flows nicely of the pages. It caught me from the first to last page. The flashbacks (diary entries), passion, friends to lovers, emotions and twists makes it worth the read and keeps you on the edge.

As always Mia Madison has delivered a story that I can only recommend as a must read.
