Unspoken Memories Gabbie S. Duran

She awoke with no memory of who she was, but one clue will lead her to him...

Abigail Adams had it all, she's a gorgeous supermodel, has a wealthy fiancé, and a career on the rise. But that quickly changes when she wakes up in the hospital not remembering anything. The only memories she does have are not her own, but of a total stranger.

When Abigail discovers that her fiancé has been cheating on her, she leaves him and runs to the arms of the one man she is hoping will give her the answers she seeks.

Matt Garcia is used to playing the field, keeping his heart guarded, but then Abigail Adams unexpectedly shows up at his door hoping he will be the answer she is looking for. Will he finally learn to take a break from his no strings attached lifestyle and show her that she doesn't need her past, but the future he is willing to offer her?

With every unspoken memory she regains, will she learn to open up her heart to a total stranger, or will she keep it guarded like he does?

New Adult Contemporary Romance: Due to strong language and sexual content, not intended for readers under the age of 18.

Jamie Zishka says

This was an amazing story .. It had hurt and love and at points I wanted to scream in frustration and kill Matt!! But he made up for it eventually :) If u like a good romance that isn't all about sex ( don't get me wrong it had hot sex scenes) but I'm tired of reading books that every page is nothing but sex! It had the build up to the explosive moment and I love every minute of this story I couldn't put the dang book down! Thanks again Gabbie hope there is much much more to this story!! I know most stories u want more for just the main characters but I would love to see more of all tr characters in this story that's how well it was written ... So me patiently waiting!! Loved it!

Christina Racich says

I am so tired right now while I write this review so I apologize if it sucks! Why am I so excited you ask? Oh that would be due to the fact that I was up ALL night reading this book and could not put it down! Gabbie is an AMAZING author and I cannot get over the fact that this is her first ever book release! She is so talented and I cannot wait to read what more she has to offer in the near future!

Abigail Adams is a well-known supermodel that has it all! She is rich, gorgeous, successful, engaged, and well on her way to being an even bigger deal! After a brutal fall, Abigail ends up in a coma and wakes up with amnesia. All that she remembers are memories that do not appear to be hers. Abigail feels that her life is all wrong. When she is released from the hospital and has to return to her life she realizes her house is not what she would have considered a home. The pictures on the wall show her that she was conceited, and she has so many clothes that she wonders why she would have needed so many and why she never sent them to charity. Even looking at her fiancé makes her sick. Was she really that unhappy and self-absorbed before the accident? All she remembers is the man in her dreams and a phone number. Needing answers she goes on a journey of self-discovery and she is lead to the man that will change her future.

Matt Garcia recently lost his best friend and the only blood family he had left. He spent his days being the star quarter back for his college football team, partying at night, and being a man whore in between. Matt did not plan on settling down with any other woman except for his first love. Since that did not appear to be happening anytime soon, he figured he would play the field and protect his heart. Until the night his doorbell rang and the famous Abigail Adams was at his doorstep with memories of the man staring back at her, but absolutely no clue how they knew each other! Will Abigail get her own memories back? Is she willing to start new memories and trust another man? Will Matt let go of his past and start living and loving again? Well hold on tight, because you are in for a wild and bumpy ride!

I felt like I was in this story! The journey that Matt and Abigail take to figure out why she has memories of him and discovering who the new Abigail Adams is was amazing! Their story was so gut wrenching, powerful, and frustrating at times that I thought I was going to need a drink! Matt is so loyal to the people he loves and is true to his word that he is absolutely sexy! I am not going to lie I did want to slap him at times, but watching how he changes and becomes an even better person is heartwarming! His roommate Trey really brings this book to life and left me laughing! All of the characters are so unique and I wish I could be friends with most of them!

I do not want to give too much away! I will not lie, I was more frustrated than not! I have to give this book 4.75 stars! Besides not being able to put it down, I felt like I was on a roller coaster ride of emotions! You may or may not cry, but I can guarantee you will catch yourself smiling, laughing, yelling and wanting to slap somebody! I cannot wait for the next book in this series and to join this group of friends that are so close they are family in the next chapter of their lives!

I was given a copy of this book in exchange for an honest review!

First let me start by saying this review is completely spoiler FREE!!!

I started this book yesterday and because of life and sleep I had to wait and finish it today. Y'all this book blew my damn mind!! You cannot tell that it's her debut novel. Honestly I rank it up there with the big dogs!! This book is that good! You have Abigail that wakes from a coma and she doesn't remember anything but one number. And these memories (they give me chills just thinking about them.) Her world comes crashing down on her as she struggles to find herself and her place in the world she has NOBODY she's alone. Honestly she's stronger than I could have ever been. Then you have sweet sweet Matt who meets this confused ex supermodel that has the memories. How do they connect these two people? Well I can't tell ya that or I would ruin it for you. Oh and I cannot forget Trey, Kellie, or David they are all background characters that you just fall in love with. Seriously you have some type of emotion from EVERY character you meet in this book!! And now brings me to the storyline... It was one of those "keep you on the edge of your seat, wanting more" kinda books seriously I didn't even wanna shower I'm not lying just ask her! It was beautiful, it captured your heart from the very beginning. Gabbie poured her heart out in this book and it clearly shows. After reading this book I feel more connected with her as a person. I already love her but now I understand her more (I hope that makes sense cause its the only way I can describe it) THIS IS A MUST READ BOOK!!! Gabbie darlin' you rocked it!! And now this girl has a better understanding of the friend she met just months ago. I love you and am so so proud of you!!!

For the Love of Books says

Unspoken memories is 5 stars of amazing... Gabbie Durans debut novel was definitely something special. Abigail is a super model who has an accident and is left in a coma. When she wakes up she doesn't remember who she is all she can remember is a phone number. Little does she know this number will change her life forever. Matt is gorgeous, sweet and special and is thrown into Abigail's life unexpectedly the question is does he deserve to be there? I'm all about romances I love when couples fall in love but lately I feel like I'm reading the same story over and over but Unspoken Memories had what I needed something different a twist and it left me speechless at times it is just the perfect mix of every emotion and I couldn't recommend it more. So I absolutely loved this book and have a major book hangover I can't even bring myself to read another book because I want to linger awhile in this one ;) I laughed, yelled and said Fuck!! Way to many times but enjoyed every minute that Abigail formed friendships better yet family. This book keeps you wanting to know more it leaves me waiting patiently (I'm lying I have the need to message Gabbie everyday till it comes out lol) for book two and yes there will be a book two. This book is not a book you want to miss if you don't read anything I recommend this one is one you definitely want to read...~Raquel

Angela says

I loved this book for the most part. The characters were well written and captivating as well as aggravating at times. (MATTHEW, I'M LOOKING AT YOU BUSTER!)

It's told from Abigail's POV.

When Abigail Adams, famous super model, wakes up in the hospital from a bad fall down the stairs, she doesn't know why she is there or really who she is. The only thing she can remember is a phone number. When her creepy fiance/manager greets her at the hospital she knows he is no good, for a few reasons. She is uncomfortable and just wants to be left alone. As she learns more about who she was, she realizes that she wasn't a nice person and never wants to be that way again.

She is having day and night dreams about a guy that might have a connection to her but she doesn't know his name. When she hires a PI to find info into her past and info about the person the phone number she remembers belongs to she decides to pay him a visit after her douchenozzle fiance shows his true colors.

The phone number belongs to one Matthew Garcia, a college senior who lives in Portland. When Matt answers the door, Abi is surprised to see the guy from her dreams standing in front of her. However, after learning that he has no idea who she is besides a famous super model she is really confused. Matt and his hunky roommate Trey end up being super protective of Abigail and they end up being not only close friends but roommates as well.

There is a definite connection between Abi and Matt, and just when you think that Matt may have given up his player ways, boom, sike! Ass! Ugh.

So what is the connection with Abi seeing Matt's face in her dreams? Will she ever get her memory back? And what about Matt and Abi being more than friends? Read Unspoken Memories and find out.

Then keep a watch out for book two coming soon called Unspoken Promises.

*Note*- This book doesn't end in a cliffy but you know there is more to come. Hopefully more of Trey's story! Wink wink, nudge, nudge, Gabbie!

Where do we start, Abigail wakes up with amnesia and so begins her journey. We find out that she is a model and has a boyfriend/manager named Bill. Abigail remembers nothing of her own personal life but she does have this recurring phone number going through her mind. She has no idea who it belongs to but deems it must have some importance if it's all that she remembers. Once she is released from the hospital she is thrust into a life with her life with Bill. She is not happy and has no idea how she could have been this person. She doesn't care for who she was. Abigail already has her suspicions about Bill since she overheard something in hospital room that proves he may not be "sweet and attentive" boyfriend he tries to come off as. She decides to use her resources to find the owner of the phone number running through her head and do some digging into Bill. This is how we are introduced to Matthew Garcia. She takes Matt's address and pays him a visit thinking it may help jog her memory. No such luck but she finds she is attracted to him. She also starts getting memories that don't belong to her but to Matt's now deceased sister, Em. When she catches Bill banging his personal assistant she decides to pack up and leave but since she has no idea where to go she ends up at the doorstep of the only person she does know....hottie Matt.

Matt is kind of a manwhore....no scratch that...hehe....just a manwhore. Now Mari did not find him lovable or endearing :) but I did. I am not saying that he easy to love cause he really is not but for some unknown reason, I understood him so I could still find him loveable. Mari, not so much. We also meet Matt's roommate, Trey. We fucking loved Trey, he is hot, sexy and funny. He really is super easy to love. He may be the only character in the book who doesn't piss you off. Well him, David and Kelly. We will be honest, we spent half the book pissed off. It is kinda impossible not too but that does not make it bad book. There are perfectly good reasons why you are pissed and you should be pissed.

One scene will have you saying OMG and shaking your head and threatening bodily harm. We may have threatened Gabbie with bodily harm. It still makes me angry when she brings it up ;) We can't say this is a HEA because the ending is a little ambiguous. This is more of "Happily so far..." with her leaving open many questions that I can understand, as a reader, you want answers to. On a happy note there will be a book 2, Unspoken Promises. Gabbie has given us her word that all our questions will be answered. Mari has already told Gabbie she would cunt punch her personally if book 2 didn't make her happy. We are not above threatening here....lmao. This story is not one if you want warm fuzzies, unicorns and rainbow...its real and crappy just like life is sometimes. The main characters make stupid decisions but then don't we all. I truly believe everything we do, good or bad, we learn from and so will Abigail and Matt. It will not be easy road I can tell you that. However, you found yourself drawn into and enjoying the story even though the mishaps our characters find themselves in. For a debut novel, all things considered....we truly believe Gabbie did a wonderful job. We are excited for book 2 and to see her grow as an author. We have no doubt as she keeps writing, learning and growing she will be able to bring us some great books in the future.

5 out of 5

With the relative ease of self-publishing these days, there are a lot of "debut novels" cropping up all over the web. What isn't cropping up are a lot of quality "debut novels"; instead we have to muddle through the mediocre and the lame copies until we find a diamond in the rough. Unspoken Memories is that diamond. Gabbie sent me a copy of Unspoken Memories in exchange for sexual favors an honest review after I whined about needing a good book in a private group. She had previously sent me a teaser and I was salivating and impatiently waiting for its October release date.

Well, honey, let me tell you- Gabbie S. Duran writes relatable characters with a storyline that had me blown away. I was so engrossed in this book that I fed my kids popcorn and yogurt for dinner. I just couldn't put it down.

I needed answers and I needed to know what was going to happen next and oh, I was a mess! I laughed, I cried, I gasped, I harrumphed, I yelled, and I sighed. Gabbie's dialogue is so natural and the pace of the book was fabulous. Plenty of drama and angst but not to that "oh good heavens, what now?" level. I can't think of anything to bitch about. Watching things unfold between Matt and Abigail was a beautiful journey. He needed someone to care for and she needed to be cared for. I loved how Abigail handled herself in each predicament that she found herself in. Didn't matter if it was a sneaky fiancé or runner's wall or outrageous lust or fear, Abigail was a heroine to root for. And Matt. *swoon* He's the perfect mix of playboy, athlete, protector, and best friend.

"Look, I don't know what's going on in that beautiful head of yours, but whatever it is, it brought you to me, which makes you mine now, and I always protect what's mine, Abigail.”

Look, I'm not gonna write you a book report. Just believe me when I tell you that this chick is gonna do great things with her writing. She nailed all of the things that I need in a great book: characters that are believable and likable, smooth dialogue, enough drama and angst to keep things interesting, a little intrigue, a lot of lust, and an ending that made me do the sappy 'sigh'. Oh, I thought of something to bitch about- I need more. I'm a glutton and need a little bit more of Abigail and Matt.

I really don't know how to star this book so I am not going to.

**MILD SPOILER AHEAD - READ AT OWN RISK****

I was keen to read it and the beginning of it sucked me in. The premise of her waking from a coma with someone else's memories and not remembering who she was, was something fresh and I looked forward to seeing where the author was going to take it.

And then... nothing. I was flipping through the book pretty fast because I REALLY wanted to know how it was going to play out. I did finish the book but I have to admit that I was so disappointed in it.

I didn't really like Matt and couldn't connect with their relationship. I felt like there were a lot of loose ends with regards to her fiance. BUT the main problem I had with this book was that we got no answers with regards to her memory! Perhaps the author never meant for that to be part of the plot but for me, that was the main plot twist and I really needed an answer.

The characters started out interesting to me but quickly fizzled into New Adult immaturity and I am pretty over the NA dramatics at the moment - perhaps if you enjoy NA, you will enjoy this one.

I guess that there may be some answers about her memories in the second book but I won't be reading it. It just felt like that aspect of the book was forgotten about while the angst in the relationship was examined and I didn't like that, it wasn't what I was looking for.

Lexy at All Is Read says

What can I say; overall I loved the concept of the book. I read a lot, so lately the trend seems to be in the “romance” department, which everyone is instantly in love. That's all well and good, but sometimes I like the angst of seeing someone, being attracted to them on some level and the feelings evolving over time. That's what Gabbie has given me. Totally original plot, was a little squeamish about how Abigail learned of

Matt then add her desires, I was a little worried exactly where I was being taken, but it turned out I was in a safe place! HA! Unspoken Memories is a well written, an awesome debut, and the story grabs you, keeps your attention, and flows right through till the end. I love the fact there are some hints of suspense, a bit of otherworldly, romance and lust giving the reader a total well-rounded story. Gabbie is an amazing writer and I am excited to see what she brings us in the future. Great Job 4 Stars only a few days until book 2 I loved this one Matt Garcia swoon. You know I must be honest I dont like ghost, paranormal or fantasy. This was a GREAT romance/suspense story with a side order of a ghost. I cant explain it exactly but the main character was great. She wakes up from being in a coma and hear things between a man and a woman. These things are disturbing and they quickly take over the book. This is where the plot goes into overdrive. Our Abigail Adams is an up and coming supermodel. Im old so I will think of her as a young Kathy Ireland. She quickly realizes she has no memory. The fall damaged her and she cant figure things out. Then she remembers a phone number, gets a private investigator and finds the person connected to the number. Boy oh boy this was very well done!

The characters are so good and the memories are clear to Abbie, so clear in fact I was stunned at the twist that happens relating to them. I guess if someone is no longer here in the physical world they are still here in spirit. I totally believe that. This by no means is a paranormal book, its a new adult romance and it has a twist. It is a marvelous book that ends with you wanting more but not needing it. No cliffhangers. Gotta love that.

What I loved was how the minor story was running a marathon. As a model she never thought about exercise, just diet modification. Abigail takes up running with her new found friends. It was very inspirational reading how she starting to run some really big marathons.

The author does a great job with the romance aspects of Abigail. There is a steam factor here. I think the level is a good 8 on a 1-10 scale. I thoroughly enjoyed it and I have a few days until book 2 what a deal!

Unspoken Memories is one of those books you can't put down!

When I first start a new book, specially if no one recommended it yet, I do it without expectations and I love that, because having your mind blown away by a new book is one of my favorite things ever! And it happened with this book!

When I first read the blurb I was already expecting me to like it, but I was hooked from the first letter to the last one! This book has it all, a little bit of action, sexy scenes, a swoon worthy male (more than one), friendship, love and a GREAT heroine!

When I pimp a book to my friends the first thing they ask me is "Is it dark?", because, well, I'm known for my taste in dark, mind f**ck readings. This book is NOT dark, what it is though, is AMAZING!

We first meet Abgail when she is waking up from a 4 month coma and right there we can see who the bad people in the book are...She wakes up with no memories of who she is, but there is a conversation she witnessed before her accident (I have my doubts about this word describing what happened to her, actually) and a phone number.

The phone number she discovers is not her fiancé's and she move back with him just see for herself what a lying piece of s****t he really is.

Then she meets Matt...well, the meeting and who Matt is was something I was seriously NOT expecting. You'll need to read the book to experience it and see what I'm talking about...the way Gabbie wrote it we are certainly expecting something just to be shown that it isn't that. But don't worry, it's better!

Abgail is a great character, she isn't weak, at least the new Abgail isn't, I don't know the supermodel of before the accident, but I gotta say she is changed! She doesn't take bullshit from others, she speaks her mind, she is kind, compassionate, and a great friend.

Matt is just as great! He is HOOOOT, sweet, a great friend too, has a body worthy of his athletic trainings and he is completely swoon worthy! I dare you not to fall in love with him! :)

Together they find a way into a friendship that leads them to understand each other better and also that teaches them to cope with their lives and to live again. They start walking the path of a great friendship turning to love...but as usual, it isn't easy...Matt is still hung up on his first love, the one that led him to turn into a player and Abgail is still hung up on her ex-cheating (not the ex, but to the fact that men cheat and she doesn't want to take a chance with Matt's player ways with fear of being hurt more)...

This is a story about second chances, but not second chances because of a missing opportunity, but because life got in the way and the universe shows that even though things can end, new things can start and develop to be just as great if not better!

I could talk here for hours about how great the characters and the story are, but this is one of those books you have to experience to truly understand what I'm talking about!

I don't have all the words to say all I wanted to say about it, just know that I will be following Matt and Abgail's story until the end and I'm sure I will love it all, because Gabbie's writing is just amazing that way! She has a way to tell the story that makes you part of it. A week after reading it, I'm still thinking about it (I can't go running without thinking of Matt and Abgail and I wish I had my own Matt to run with!!!).

I really fell in love with this book. When I was first finishing it, I thought there were some lose ends, but then I realized it is a series, so no lose ends. Also there is no cliffhanger. But you will be wanting more, as I already said, Gabbie's writing and story is addictive!

I can't wait!!

"I...Choose...You...Beautiful. There will never be anyone else. You are my life, my world, my everything, and you'd have to kill me in order for me to let you go" - Matt

Abigail is a famous model who wakes up in the hospital after being in a coma. She remembers nothing of her previous life, except for a phone number that keeps repeating in her head. When Bill, her fiancée and manager comes to the hospital she instantly doesn't trust him. Abigail hires a private investigator to figure out why she is so uneasy with him and to find out who the phone number belongs to. Through the investigator, she learns that Bill has been embezzling her money and cheating on her. But he is also able to give her the name and information of the person who owns the number in her head. Matt Garcia.

When Abigail comes home from a run to find Bill having sex with his personal assistant, she packs a bag and gets on a train to find the mysterious man. Matt and his roommate Trey, take pity on her and let her stay until she figures everything out. The three become fast friends and soon Matt and Abigail begin spending time together through their shared passion for running. They are very attracted to each other but they are both afraid of messing up the friendship. When they finally give in to their growing feelings for each other and admitting that they love one another.

"I want everything. I want to wake up next to you every morning. I want to fall asleep next to you, knowing that I'm going to hold you all night. I want to be there for you whenever you need me, but most of all, I want the whole world to know that you're mine" - Matt

I wasn't sure how this book was going to turn out after reading the synopsis. It could have been either really bad or really good. I am happy to say that it was the latter. The author did a very good job of pulling the reader in and keeping the story moving and interesting. It ends with a HEA but it takes the whole book to finally get there. There was a while that I thought that it was going to end in a cliffhanger! I look forward to reading the next book in the series.

Read more reviews | Find Me on Facebook

Update: I just found out that Abby and Matt will be back for a book 2! I hope my questions will be answered. Uping my rating to 3.5 Stars! I can't wait to continue their story.

I am torn with my review. I like the idea of the story, I liked the characters but I just didn't like how it all played out in the end. I was right away hooked with the story of Abby; a supermodel waking up from a coma but not remembering who she or who anyone is. She discovers her fiancé' is cheating on her and that her perfect life isn't as perfect as it seems. The only thing Abby can remember is a phone number and partial memories of a man with dark hair. Abby tracks down the phone number leading to Matt, also the man in her memories. The problem is.... Matt and Abby have never met.

Let's start with the characters. I liked the characters a lot. I love that Abby became a new person after waking up from being in a coma and she isn't the self-absorbed model she once was. I liked the character of Matt as well and felt I knew him such as much as I did Abby even though the story is told only in Abby's perspective. Trey was a lot a fun character; I would have liked to have read more scenes with him.

Abby begins to get more memories over time of Matt at different times in his life. She learns who she is getting these memories from and who they belong to but that is where I get confused with the story. Is this a paranormal book? HOW is Abby able to get the memories? It's not really explained "the why" after we learn "the who". I would have liked more explanation behind it; it's such a large part of the book. Also the book ends without anymore talk of it... it just kind of gets forgotten about.

I absolutely LOVE that there is build-up between Matt and Abby. They form a great friendship and connection that happens immediately once they meet. Matt is a man-ho and Abby just needs a friend, someone she can trust. They are there for each other before any romantic feelings form. I understood their connection. It was sweet and enduring how Matt wanted to protect Abby from everything and anyone.

Over all, I thought the story was okay. There were things I liked a lot and things I didn't like.

I give Unspoken Memories 3 Stars.
